WCE MISSION: To reduce the digital divide for youth in developing countries; to use our global network of partnerships to enhance communities in these countries; and to promote the reuse of electronic equipment and its ultimate disposal in an environmentally responsible manner. We do this delivering 6 services.

World Computer Exchange is a nonprofit education and environment organization that works through a network of nearly 900 Partner organizations in 81 countries in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. Our 800 volunteers in collaboration with 25 international nonprofits provide our partners with: capacity building, low-cost computers, digital content, training trips, and e-waste solutions. Since 2000, 4.5 million youth in 3,250 schools, universities, youth centers and libraries have used computers refurbished by our volunteers to access new skills, understanding and opportunities via preloaded content and the internet. At the same time these computers were kept out of landfills and we work to see that they are recycled appropriately. We operate as a volunteer and virtual organization to keep our costs low and fund raising expenses below 3%. Glossary.

WCE Development Officer Role Description

Please talk to your WCE Chapter Coordinator or Initiative Manager if you are interested in being nominated as a volunteer WCE Development Officer. WCE does not usually appoint Development Officers to a country in which they are currently living if they are from that country. Often they are expatriates from the country or someone that has experienced the country through a job or serving in Peace Corps. They are to help facilitate the flow of resources from outside the country into the country. The following are the range of roles. Each Development Officer undertakes the roles where they feel comfortable and have the skills and time. Currently WCE has 274 Development Officers. In countries where there are Field Associates, the Development Officers will work closely with them. Glossary. WCE Organizational Chart

1. Help identify groups in the country that might be interested in WCE Services.
2. When you receive copies of correspondence from the country, send any comments you have either directly to the potential Partners or to the president or Regional Manager.
3. Help potential Partners in the country answer their implementation questions and send this to the WCE Regional Manager and WCE president.
4. Gather due diligence information on a potential Partner in the country.

5. Review the draft implementation answers and any due diligence and make comments and suggestions directly to the potential Partner or to the WCE Regional Manager and WCE president. When the answers are ready, the president recommends it to the WCE Board of Directors for a vote on the plan, partnership, and shipment(s) and then the president manages the invoices and shipment.
6. Help raise funds to Sponsor the last 1/3 of the costs of a container when a Partner in the country participates in a WCE Sponsor Campaign. This may include working with a WCE Chapter. WCE has a fund raising consultant available to help you: Sidney Brien, SBrien@WorldComputerExchange.org
7. Nurture ongoing relations with any existing WCE Partners in the country.
8. Assist the WCE president in marketing a shared container if there are enough interested potential Partners in the country.
9. Help build capacity in WCE Partners in the country in areas where you have skills in the following 7 areas: tech planning, computer or network trouble-shooting, fund raising, social media, educational use of the internet, organizational development, and orientation about the use of WCE content and tools (C4G and eWaste).
10. Help the WCE president encourage WCE Partners in the country that have received computers to complete annual evaluation forms. You are also asked to complete forms and write stories and take pictures if you visit your country.
11. Annually assist the president in reviewing the accuracy of the confidential country summary of WCE Partners and potential Partners for the country.
12. If you live near a WCE Chapter, visit and talk during one of their volunteer work days about the country.

The volunteer WCE Regional Managers assists the WCE president in encouraging and guiding the Development Officers and Field Associates who are working in the region with which he or she has agreed to help manage. Regional Managers and Field Associates are encouraged to recommend ways to improve how WCE works with Development Officers. Regional Managers and/or Field Associates sometimes directly help the Development Managers and sometimes help with fund raising as part of a Sponsor Campaign.
